Fidelity in trifles and an earnest seeking to please God in little matters is a test of real devotion and love. Let your aim be to please our dear Lord perfectly in little things and to attain a spirit of child-like simplicity and dependence.

Get the habit—a glorious one—of referring all to Christ. How did he feel, think, act? So then must I feel, and think, and act. Should I please myself? "For even Christ pleased not himself."

Rev. A. S. Leinbach, D. D.

THIS well-known minister of the Reformed Church is a son of the late Rev. Thomas H. Leinbach and his wife Elizabeth (nee Seibert), and was born July 20, 1825, in Spring township, near Reading, Pa., in the house now occupied by Benneville Krick. He is one of a family of thirteen children, eight of whom are living. Two of his brothers are also ministers—Thomas C. Leinbach, of Womelsdorf, and Samuel A. Leinbach, of Reading.

Before he was a year old, his father moved to the parsonage of the Tulpehocken Church, of which he was the pastor, located in Jackson township, Lebanon county. It was here that Dr. Leinbach spent his earlier years. He attended the common schools in the neighborhood and afterwards entered the academy at Womelsdorf, and then the academy at Myerstown. From here he entered Marshall College at Mercersburg in 1842, and graduated in the fall of 1846. He then prosecuted his theological studies in the seminary at the same place until 1848, and was licensed to preach on May 16 of the same year. He was ordained by Lebanon Classis of the Reformed Church and installed as pastor of the Palmyra charge in Lebanon county, which he served for the short period of five months, when he was called to the pastorate of the First Reformed Church of Reading. He entered upon his duties September 8, 1848, and successfully served the congregation for fourteen and one-half years, until 1863. During a period of the time he was pastor of the First Church, he preached at stated intervals in the Schwarzwald Church and became the regular pastor of that well-known congregation in 1855, serving them faithfully and continuously up to July, 1895, during the period of forty years.

Since 1863 Dr. Leinbach served a large country charge, consisting at various times of from five to seven congregations. For a number of years his charge consisted of the five congregations—Schwarzwald, Spiess, Alsace, Hinnershitz and Shalter's. Last July he resigned his charge on account of failing health, and held farewell services in each of the five congregations. The last of these was held in Schwarzwald Church, August 18, 1895.

From the time of his ordination to August 18, 1895, Dr. Leinbach baptized 7729 persons, confirmed 3437, buried 4289, and married 2829 couples.

A number of years ago the title of D. D. was conferred upon him by Franklin and Marshall College.

New Year's Petitions.

What shall I ask for the coming year,
What shall my watchword be?
What would'st thou do for me, dear Lord,
What can I do for thee?

Lord, I would ask for a holy year,
Spent in thy perfect will;
Help me to walk in thy very steps,
Help me to please thee still.

Lord, I would ask for a heavenly year,
Humble and yet so high;
Help me to sink at thy blessed feet,
And yet on thy bosom lie.

Lord, I would ask for a trustful year,
Give me thy faith divine,
Taking my full inheritance,
Making thy fullness mine.

Lord, I would ask for a year of love,
Oh, let me love thee best;
Give me the love that faileth not
Beneath the hardest test.

Lord, I would ask for a busy year,
Filled up with service true,
Doing with all thy Spirit's might,
Whate'er I find to do.

The out-and-out Christian is a joyful Christian. The half-and-half Christian is the kind of Christian that a great many of you are—little acquainted with the joy of the Lord. Why should we live half way up the hill, and swathed in mists, when we might have an unclouded sky and a visible sun over our heads, if we would climb higher and walk in the light of his face?

Precept freezes, while example warms. Precept addresses us, example lays hold on us. Precept is a marble statue, example glows with life—a thing of flesh and blood.

Rev. Stanley L. Krebs, A. M.

BORN at Waynesboro, Pa., February 14, 1864; graduated at Franklin and Marshall College 1886; taught the languages and natural sciences at St. Luke's Academy at Philadelphia, and same branches at Blackwood's Young Ladies' Select School, Lancaster, Pa. He completed his theological course at the Eastern Seminary in 1890, and has since been pastor of St. Andrews Congregation at Reading, Pa., where his labors have been attended with abundant success. After six weeks preaching and house to house canvass, he organized a nucleus which has in four years grown to a congregation of over 400, with a Sunday-school of over 600 members. Last year for the benefit of his health, which was broken down by overwork, he took a winter trip to summer lands, Algeria, Africa, Italy and France. His health is completely restored. He has been interested in educational matters; taught Old Testament Hebrew at the Pennsylvania Chautauqua, and has recently published a work on the social and economic problems of the day entitled "Poverty's Factory" which has already enjoyed an extensive circulation. He is known in the church for his musical ability on the violin, pipe organ and voice. He was the founder and first leader of the F. and M. Glee Club, Guitar and Mandolin Club, &c. For fourteen years prior to entering the ministry he was organist in various churches, Reformed, Presbyterian, Lutheran and Episcopalian, and endorses the project of compiling a Reformed Sunday-school Hymnal.

February.

February—fortnights two—
Briefest of the months are you,
Of the winter's children last.
Why do you go by so fast?
Is it not a little strange
Once in four years you should change?
That the sun should shine and give
You another day to live?
Maybe this is only done
Since you are the smallest one;
You're the baby of the year,
And to me you're very dear,
Just because you bring the line,
"Will you be my valentine?"

—Frank Dempster Sherman.

George Washington.

"This greatest of good men, and best of great men," was born in Westmoreland County, Virginia, February 22, 1732. The day of his birth is now a national holiday. A full length statue by Houdon, in Richmond, is accepted as the standard likeness of Washington. He had profound convictions of religious truth, firm faith in an over ruling providence, reverence for the Holy Scriptures, and respect for the church of Christ, of which he was a member.

It was but natural that he should be the choice of all classes for the first president. Had he been ambitious like Napoleon he might have been made dictator for life. "As a leader of a republic in a time which 'tried men's souls,' no one ever exceeded him in judgment or patriotism." He was president eight years, then retired to private life at his beautiful country seat at Mount Vernon, on the Potomac, where he died December 14, 1799, mourned by a whole nation.

I like to study a book of the Bible at a time. If my wife should send me a letter of eight pages and I should read one page a day, I would forget what she is saying.—D. L. Moody.

Life is like that—one stitch at a time taken patiently, and the pattern will come out all right like the embroidery.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, READING, PA.

REV. STANLEY L. KREBS, PASTOR.

The Reformed Church Literature.

THE Reformed Church prides itself not only in its institutions of learning but also in its literature. The Reformed Church has a literature which, though not as extensive as it might be, is nevertheless worthy of commendation. Its books are numerous and able, some of them occupying places beside the works of the best American church writers. These books are all varied in character and matter, covering nearly all phases of thought. They are not only devoted to religion, morals, and theology, but to science, philosophy, poetry and other subjects of interest. The authors have given evidence of the broadest culture, ripest thought, and undoubted originality. Not only along the line of books but through the agency of the magazines, church papers and Sunday-school literature is revealed a wealth of literary brilliancy that compares favorably with other churches. Through all these agencies the Reformed Church is proving itself a mighty factor in making the world better, religiously, intellectually, morally and spiritually. These forces of literature should be increased by a wider circulation in the homes of our church, for where there is a lack of interest the church in general suffers. Every home should take a pride in having in it a full and complete library and among these books and periodicals should be those of our own church.

The Reformed Church and Temperance.

The Reformed Church has repeatedly given deliverances upon the evils of intemperance, and has thus proven itself the defender of the principles of temperance. The ministry is very outspoken in denouncing the evil which curses so many homes, and occasions so much suffering in the world. The laity are more and more awake to the fact that our homes, the country and the church must have the protection of the temperance people, and hence quite a sentiment now prevails by which this cause shall be more strongly supported. The Reformed Church practices, preaches and encourages the work of temperance.

"We are builders, and each one
Should cut and carve as best he can,
Every life is but a stone;
Every one shall hew his own;
Make or mar, shall every man."

—Bishop Doane.

The catechetical work pays because it results in an intelligent apprehension of faith and duty.

Beecher once said: "The memory of my sainted mother is the brightest recollection of my early years."

Lamartine had an exceptionally clever mother, and several times in his writings mentions her with admiration.

Van Dyke's mother was quite an art critic, with a very correct appreciation of excellence in drawing and painting.

The elder Pitt had an idea that his bias towards statesmanship was given him by his mother's love of political affairs.

The mother of Peter, the Great was a woman of intrepid courage and great personal strength, both of body and mind.

Kant's mother was a woman of unusual strength of mind. He believed that he inherited from her his state for metaphysical studies.

What we wish to do for our fellow creatures we must do first for ourselves. We can give them nothing save what God has already given us. We must become good before we can make them good, and wise before we can make them wise.

Christian faith is a grand cathedral with dimly pictured windows. Standing without, you see no glory, nor can possibly imagine any; standing within, every ray of light reveals a harmony of unspeakable splendors.

Rev. J. B. Rust.

BORN September 5, 1856, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is the oldest son of Rev. H. Rust, D. D., Professor of Historical Theology in Heidelberg University, Tiffin, Ohio. He attended the public schools in Tiffin, and took the classical course in Heidelberg College. He was graduated in the college in June, 1877, and in the Theological Seminary in 1879. In 1877, having taken the honors in a class of six contestants at the home oratorical contest, he represented Heidelberg at the inter-collegiate oratorical contest, held a few weeks later, in Oberlin, Ohio. In December, 1879, he became pastor of the Waynesburg Charge, Stark County, Ohio, where he labored successfully for six years. He was ordained in April, 1880. In the winter of 1886, in response to an urgent call from Jerusalem's German Reformed Church, Canton, Ohio, he became pastor of the large congregation which had been gathered, and faithfully served for fifty-three years, by Rev. P. Herbruck, D. D. The subject of this sketch, therefore, was the third pastor in the history of that congregation.

In November, 1890, as the successor of Rev. O. J. Accola, D. D., he was called to the pastorate of the First Reformed Church, New Philadelphia, Ohio, where he at present lives and labors. During his service in the Waynesburg Charge, two churches were remodelled and rededicated. Whilst preaching in Canton, the church there was also remodelled at a cost of $3,000, and rededicated. During the present pastorate, his congregation, at an aggregate cost of $19,000, built a new house of worship, the most attractive and comfortable church edifice in Tuscarawas County.

Mr. Rust is one of the bi-lingual ministers of the Reformed Church, having preached both in English and German ever since he entered the ministry. In 1881 he received the degree of A. M. in course from his Alma Mater, and is the only graduate of Heidelberg University who has the honor of having delivered both the Alumni and the Literary Address at that institution. He has frequently written for the church papers, for the Reformed Quarterly Review, and other periodicals.

Mothers of Great Men.

Machiavelli's mother gave him his first lessons in deceit, lessons that afterward bore fruit in the doctrines taught in "The Prince."

The mother of Alexander the Great was said to have been a woman of great natural abilities, strong willed and singularly impulsive.

The mother of Michael Angelo was, in her way, as heroic a character as her son. He once said: "Whatever a man is, he generally owes to his mother."

The mother of Julius Caesar dedicated her son to Mars as soon as he was born. She was a woman of stern resolution and indomitable energy and perseverance.

Napoleon's mother was as much of a soldier as her great son. Speaking of the influence of the mother on the character of the child, he said: "The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother."

God has other words for other worlds, but for this world the word of God is Christ.

When thou prayest, rather let thy heart be without words than thy words without heart.

It is a thought to me awful and beautiful, that of the daily prayer, and of the myriads of fellow-men uttering it, in care and in sickness, in doubt and in poverty, in health and in wealth.

It is only by labor that thought can be made healthy, and only by thought that labor can be made happy; and the two can not be separated with impunity.

Rev. Reuben Keller.

BORN in North Hampton County, Pa., January 13th, 1848, of German parentage, and of the fourth generation from Joseph Keller who emigrated from Zweibrucken, Germany, in the early days of this country. In 1857 his parents removed to Crawford County, Ohio. He attended common school until 1867, when he began a classical course in Heidelberg College. Graduated in 1873, and after teaching some, entered Heidelberg Theological Seminary and completed his course in theology in the spring of 1877. He served the Neria Charge in Michigan for five years, the New Jefferson Charge, in Eastern Ohio, for over nine years and will close his fourth year at West Alexandria, Ohio, January 1st, 1896.

The Reformed Church and Education.

The Reformed Church has always laid stress upon the importance of an educated ministry and an intelligent membership. Her institutions of learning are very numerous and widely distributed. They rank in equipment and advantages with institutions of learning in other churches. Her seminaries are headed with able professors and teachers, her academies and colleges have the best talent, and the moral and spiritual atmosphere is far in advance of many others. The home-life and society about these educational centers is commendable, so that the young men and women of our church can find the highest advantages and the very best associations. These institutions of learning ought to be yet more largely endowed, and it is hoped those who have the means to do so will bequeath of their money to these purposes. In no better way can monuments be erected than by endowing professorships where a perpetual stream of blessing will flow on through the church.

The Reformed Church and Unity.

The spirit of our Reformed faith is Christian fellowship and unity among the different evangelical denominations. There is a disposition for closer unity among those bodies which are identical in custom and cultus and where creeds can be so adjusted as to meet the wants and preferences of all, and yet not sacrifice principle or yield any orthodox views. The Reformed Church occupies an important position in the Alliance of Reformed Churches, for this is virtually the basis upon which the Alliance rests. The meeting at Glasgow in June will be one of special importance and interest and the tending of these conferences between representative men always cements the unity of faith and love. Delegates to Alliance of Reformed Churches in 1896: Revs. Thomas G. Apple, D. D., Allen R. Bartholomew, Samuel R. Bridenbaugh, Jacob Dahlman, D. D., Edmund R. Eschbach, D. D., Calvin S. Gerhard, D. The Reformed Church, West Alexandria, O.

THE history of the Reformed Church, at West Alexandria, covers a period of almost a century. The Rev. Thomas H. Winters began his labors in the year 1803. The first house of worship was built and owned jointly by the Reformed and Lutheran congregations. It was a log structure, erected about the year 1817. The union compact with the Lutherans continued until 1853, when the Reformed people under the leadership of the Rev. John Rike began the work of building a house of worship exclusively for their own use.

For forty years the congregation worshiped in that second structure of their history. But, eventually it became too limited for their comfort and their purposes. They needed more room, with more modern accommodations. Like their fathers in the second house, they went forward in faith, and persevered in the work of rebuilding and remodeling until their wishes and purposes were fully realized in the glad consummation enjoyed on the day of dedication. The pastorates were as follows:

Rev. John Rike closed April 2, 1854; Rev. Levi Rike from April 2, 1854 to May 25, 1856; Rev. Adam C. Kendig from October 1, 1857 to October 1, 1861; Rev. Henry M. Herman from December 16, 1861 to August 15, 1881; Rev. Jos. G. Shumaker from January 1, 1882 to January 1, 1885; Rev. W. C. B. Shulenberger from January 1885 to January 1887; Rev. Harvey L. Hart from September 1, 1887 to February 24, 1891. The present pastorate, Rev. R. Keller's, began January 1, 1892.

Prof. M. E. Kleckner.

BORN in 1861, in Stephenson County, Illinois. Lived on the farm until he entered Heidelberg College in the fall of 1878. Graduated in 1883. From 1884 to 1886 he taught in the College of Northern Illinois, at Dakota, Illinois, occupying the chair of Natural Science and History. In the fall of 1886, he began teaching at Heidelberg as assistant in the Department of Natural Science. In 1890 he was appointed Prof. of Geology and Biology and since 1892 has also had charge of Chemistry and Physics.

Prof. Kleckner has the happy faculty of winning his students and has made his department one of the most interesting of any in the university.

The Reformed Church.

The Reformed Church has an honorable and interesting history, both in Europe and America. She as a distinct branch of the Church of Christ, grew out of the great religious movement of the sixteenth century, which gave birth to Evangelical Protestantism, and about 1700, if not earlier, became established in the United States of America by emigrants from Germany, Switzerland and France, and largely from the Palatinate. Many of these had fled from tyranny and persecution, and sought liberty of conscience and political freedom in this country. Their outward condition in many instances was deplorable and discouraging, but with trust in God and love for the church of their choice they endured all through faith and hope.

Though the "Reformed Church in the United States" started in weakness and under peculiar difficulties in this country, the dawn of better things and conditions appeared. Her progress for some years was slow, but under the Divine blessing she gradually advanced and became permanently established. She now has grown into a large and compact organization, with educational and charitable institutions and publication interests.

She accepts the Holy Scriptures, as divinely inspired and authentic, revealing the will of God and the plan of redemption through Jesus Christ, and as being the only perfect rule of faith and practice. Her standard of doctrine is the Heidelberg Catechism, and favors simplicity of worship.

The Reformers.

Every member of the Reformed Church should not only study her history in Europe and America, but also become acquainted with the lives, sayings and doings of the Reformers—especially of those who labored in the interest of the Reformed Church. There are different books which furnish information in this respect. Among these are the Tercentenary Monument, the History and Genius of the Heidelberg Catechism, by Dr. Nevin; the Lives of the Fathers of the Reformed Church, Vol. I., by Dr. Harbaugh, and the recent Histories by Rev. Dr. J. I. Good, in two volumes. These together with other similar books give interesting sketches of Zwingli, Ecolampadius, Bullinger, Haller, Bucer, Farel, Calvin, Beza, De Lasky, Frederick III., Ursinus and Olevianus. Let such historical and biographical books be sought and read. Indeed there is no excuse for ignorance respecting these Reformers. The means are at hand, and the information thereby furnished may be studied with interest and profit.

It is not a want of time that keeps us from serving God, nor a want of means that keeps us from giving to his cause. If our soul-hunger were intense enough we would find time to pray as easily as we now find time for our meals. If we yearned to save dying souls as we yearn to bless our own children, we would find something to give and something to do for their help.

Prof. T. H. Sonnedecker.

BORN December 27, 1857, on a farm near Madisonburg, Wayne County, Ohio. Ancestors were members of the Reformed Church in Switzerland. Attended Wooster University three years and also Otterbein University three years, from which he graduated in 1883. Taught school in Dayton, Va., and Fostoria, Ohio. Has been teaching in Heidelberg University since 1886, and is now occupying the chair of Greek Language and Literature. Graduated from Heidelberg Theological Seminary and is a member of Tiffin Classis as a licentiate.

Catechism.

A catechism is a formula of doctrine, and many such formulas have been published. Among the different catechisms published of the Protestant Church are Luther's, the Heidelberg and the Westminster. The first is the doctrinal standard of the Lutheran Church, the second of the Reformed Church and the third of the Presbyterian Church. When compared as to contents, it will be seen that the central thought or principle in the first is the sacraments, in the second it is grace or redemption and in the third it is election.

The Heidelberg Catechism, corresponding with the religious experience of every true believer, is divided into three parts: 1. Conviction of sin; 2, conversion to Christ; 3, the Christian life of thankfulness. This division is scriptural; for it follows Paul's doctrinal arrangement in his epistle to the Romans. First part Romans 1: 18 to 3: 20; second 3: 20 to 11: 36; third 12: 1 to the end of the epistle. And the catechism should not only be accepted as the doctrinal standard of the Reformed Church, but be used in the family and congregation in the instruction and indoctrination of the children and youth.

The Catechism in the Home.

The Reformed Church has always emphasized the importance of educational religion. She has given great attention to the indoctrination of the children through the catechism. This has been her chief strength in the early period of her struggles against catholicism. It was by educating the children in the doctrines of the church that the Reformed faith was able to resist the ravages of Romanism. As it was necessary at that time to fortify the young against the assaults of the world, so now it is just as important that they may give a reason of the hope that is in them. They must now be rooted and grounded in the faith, and nothing can be more helpful than a study of the catechism in the Christian home. Let parents be properly imbued with the principles of this standard of faith and let these things be engraven on the heart as essentials in the Christian life.

CONTEMPORARY SYNODS.—The first Synod of the Reformed Church in the United States was organized in Philadelphia, Pa., September 29, 1747. The first Synod of the (Dutch) Reformed Church in America, was organized just fifteen days earlier, September 14, 1747. The first Synod of the Lutheran Church in this country was organized nearly one year later, August 14, 1748.

God makes the same promise to true believers that was made to the sons of Asher: "Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy day, so shall thy strength be." They that are thus shod run without being weary, and walk without growing faint. Then let us all put on the sandals of cheerful obedience and holy alacrity. They will not chafe our feet, or let us slip when we come to places of dangerous temptation.

Rev. E. E. Weller.

REV. E. E. WELLER was born at Gebharts, Somerset county, Pa. His boyhood days were spent upon the farm. He attended the common school and later taught in the same. Entered the Freshman Class of Heidelberg College in September, 1883 and graduated with the class of '87. He graduated from the Theological Seminary at Lancaster, Pa., in May, 1890. Was licensed and ordained by the Somerset Classis, and appointed to supply the congregation at Hyndman, Pa., and at the same time canvass the city of Cumberland, Md., with the view of organizing a congregation. Was appointed by the General Board of Home Missions as pastor of the Cumberland charge. Organized the congregation at Cumberland, and served the charge almost two years. Was called to the pastorate of the Germantown charge, Germantown, O., and entered upon his duties there April 1, 1892.

Governed by Synods.

The Reformed Church, in every period of her history from the Reformation to the present time, and in all European countries where she has existed, as well as in America, has been governed by synods with their subordinate classes. The Reformed Church in the United States has one General Synod and eight District Synods, which, including fifty-six classes, were organized, as to name, time and place, as follows:

NAME.	TIME.	PLACE
Eastern	Sept. 29, 1747.	Philadelphia, Pa.
Ohio	June 14, 1824.	New Philadelphia, O.
Northwest	May 29, 1867.	Fort Wayne, Ind.
Pittsburgh	Feb. 11, 1870.	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Potomac	April 18, 1873.	Frederick, Md.
German of East	Jan. 12, 1875.	Philadelphia Pa.
Central	Nov. 3, 1881.	Galion, O.
Interior	Sept. 29, 1887.	Kansas City, Mo.
General Synod	Nov. 18, 1863.	Pittsburgh, Pa.

There had been other synods organized, but after some years they became dissolved and are no longer in existence, namely:

1. The Free Synod of Pennsylvania, existing for a period of fourteen years from 1822 to 1836, when it reunited with the Eastern Synod, out of which it had irregularly sprung.
2. The three District Synods into which the Ohio Synod was divided from 1839 to 1842. These synods were formerly organized as follows: First District in 1840 at ————; Second District in 1840, at Bethlehem, Ohio; and Third District in 1840, June 8, 1840, at Dayton, Ohio. All these became dissolved in 1842, as they were succeeded by the system of classes.
3. The German Independent Synod, which was originally composed of ministers withdrawing from the Ohio Synod, and was organized October 3, 1846, at New Lisbon, Ohio; but after an independent existence of six years became again formally united in 1852 with the Ohio Synod.

On Entering the Church.

The house of God is a sacred place. It is consecrated to the service of God, and for holy purposes. As such it should be regarded by all. Yet some persons have the bad habit, when they come into the church before the service begins, to talk aloud with each other in the pew, and disturb the meditations of others. You should feel impressed that you are in the house of God, and that you came there to worship Him. Let this engage your mind and heart as soon as you enter the sanctuary of the Lord.

Saturn (♄) is in conjunction with the sun on the 13th, and can not be seen.

It is a high, solemn, almost awful thought for every individual man that his earthly influence, which has had a commencement, will never through all ages, were he the very meanest of us, have an end!

Life is short, and we have never too much time for gladdening the hearts of those who are traveling the same dark journey with us. O, be swift to love! Make haste to be kind.

St. John's Reformed Church, Germantown, Ohio.

THIS congregation was organized about the year 1809. The first regular pastor—the Rev. Thomas Winter, was called in the year 1815, and served the charge, which consisted of the Germantown congregation, the Slifer congregation, Clear Creek in Warren county, West Alexandria and Lewisburg in Preble county and Beaver Creek in Greene county, until 1840. The following persons have served as pastors since then: Revs. George Long, Solomon K. Denius, John Kercher, Aaron Wanner, G. W. Williard, H. C. Comfort, J. B. Shumaker, Jos. H. Apple, Chas. W. Good, Peter C. Prugh, E. R. Williard, E. M. Beck, W. H. Tus-sing. The present pastorate began April 1, 1892.

NO RICHER GLORY.—There is no richer or more abiding glory to be gained on earth than is secured in the exercise of ennobling influence upon humanity, and especially upon the development of the young.—William Winter.

Thanksgiving.

For the earth and all its beauty;
For the sky and all its light;
For the dim and soothing shadows
That rest the dazzled sight;
For unfading fields and prairies,
Where sense in vain has trod;
For the world's exhaustless beauty,
I thank thee, O my God.

Mars (♄) is in opposition with the sun on the 11th, and shines all night.

When we look into our own heart and life, we feel we deserve no blessing from God, and it clips the wings of faith and prevents our petition rising to the throne of grace. But we ought to encourage ourselves with the fact that we have the promise, "Open thy mouth wide and I will fill it," and the other fact, "A large request honoreth the giver."

A Christmas Sermon.

Here is a whole sermon on trust by a little fellow, who, after suffering a keen disappointment in finding an empty stocking on Christmas morning, was overwhelmed with joy and gratitude by a very late visit of the Christmas saint. Kind friends sent the gifts, and Arty's teacher told him so.

"But," said Arty, "God must have told them to send the things to us."

"Did you ask Him to, Arty?"

"Why, yes," he replied, "didn't you?"

"But it wasn't filled," reasoned the teacher.

"Yes; but I waited for Him in my heart, for I thought maybe His time was not as quick as ours."

O, if only we could remember, when tempted to fret about delayed blessings that our Father's time may not be as quick as ours!"

The Nativity.

*Novus rex, novalex,
Nova natalicia;
Novus dux, nova lux,
Nova fit letitia.*

— Old Hymn.

Night of wonder, night of glory,
Night all solemn and serene,
Night of old prophetic story,
Such as time has never seen:
Sweetest darkness, softest blue,
That these fair skies ever knew.

Night of beauty, night of gladness,
Night of night—of nights the best.
Not a cloud to speak of sadness,
Not a star but sings of rest:
Holy midnight, beaming peace,
Never shall thy radiance cease.

Happy city, dearest, fairest,
Blessed, blessed Bethlehem!
Least, yet greatest, noblest, rarest,
Judah's ever sparkling gem;
Out of thee there comes a light
That dispelleth all our night.

Now thy King to thee descendeth,
Born upon a woman's knee:
To thy gates his steps he bendeth,
To the manger cometh he;
David's Lord and David's Son,
This his cradle and his throne.

He, the lowliest of the lowly,
To our sinful world has come;
He, the holiest of the holy,
Cannot find a human home.
All for us he yonder lies,
All for us he lives and dies.

Babe of weakness, child of glory,
At thy cradle thus we bow;
Poor and sad thy earthly story,
Yet the King of glory thou;
By all heaven and earth adored,
David's Son and David's Lord.

Light of life, thou liest yonder,
Shining in thy heavenly love;
Naught from thee our souls shall sunder,
Naught from us shall thee remove.
Take these hearts, and let them be Throne and cradle both to thee!

—Horatius Bonar.

He that cannot forgive others, breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself.

The man of inordinate ambition to become great, or wealthy, or popular, whatever may be his sphere of activity or labor, often misses the mark, either in word or deed, by being overzealous in reaching the end of his desires.

How to Live.

So strive to live that every hour,
May die as the natural flower,—
A self-reviving thing of power;
That every thought and every deed
May hold within itself the seed
Of future good and future need.

'Tis sweet to think, when struggling on
The goal of life to win,
That just beyond the shores of time,
The better years begin.

Sermonizing and Preaching.

The true sermon must be conceived in the spirit of prayer, constructed by the force of concentrated thought and vitalized by the fire of the Holy Spirit. It is well to seek the occasion therefore in the congregation, the substance in the Holy Scriptures and the illustrations in nature. Nor must it be forgotten that a sermon is neither a literary essay, nor a philosophical dissertation, nor a popular platform lecture. This fact, however, it seems has not yet been discovered by some ministers, which at times becomes painfully evident in their pulpit efforts.

Moreover, preaching, to be in harmony with the divine conception of the gospel message and the economy of grace, must be more than elegant oratory or rhetoric. Preaching in the true gospel sense is the faithful presentation of God's truth to the souls of men, with the purpose of pointing out the way of salvation, and of making bad people good and good people better.

Precocious Young Men.

Klopstock began his "Messiah" at the age of seventeen. Thomas Moore began to write poems at the age of fourteen. The poet Southey began to write verses before he was eleven. Schiller wrote and published a poem on Moses when fourteen. Henry Kirk White published a volume of poems at seventeen. Dickens had produced "Pickwick Papers" before he was twenty-five. Bryant's "Thanatopsis" was published before he was twenty. Shakespeare wrote "Hamlet" when he was only thirty-six. Bulwer Lytton, Bayard Taylor, and the poet Keats were successful magazine writers at eighteen years of age. Fitz-Greene Halleck's best verses were penned when he was between fourteen and seventeen years of age.

Poems by Chaucer were known and read before he had reached his twelfth year, and Leigh Hunt made a stir at the age of thirteen.

Judge Story was at Harvard at fifteen, in Congress at twenty-nine, and Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States at thirty-nine.

Daniel Webster was in college at fifteen, gave evidence of his future greatness at twenty-five, and was the peer of the ablest man in Congress at thirty.

Whitsunday.

This day comes on the day of the ancient Pentecost, and therefore is frequently so called. It commemorates the advent or descent of the Holy Ghost. It was called White Sunday abbreviated to Whit Sunday, because anciently those baptized and confirmed appeared on that day in white garments. Coming at the season when all nature is clothed in beauty and loveliness, it reminds us of the work of the Holy Ghost in human hearts, which own his power and accept his quickening and sanctifying grace. Let all devoutly sing and pray,

"Come Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove,
With all thy quick'ning pow'rs,
Come shed abroad a Savior's love,
And that shall kindle ours."

United States Government.

The Government of the United States, which became fully organized under the Constitution in 1789, was divided into three distinct branches or departments, viz: 1. The Legislature, 2. the Executive, and 3, the Judicial.

1. The Legislative Department consists of the Congress, or House of Representatives and the Senate. The House consists of 356 members elected for two years by the people, and the Senate of 88 members elected for six years by the respective state legislatures. The salary of each is $6,000 per year.

2. The Executive Department consists of the President and his Cabinet Officers, and other officers appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

3. The Judicial Department consists of nine Judges, who continue in office during good behavior or life, and who constitute the Supreme Court of the United States. The salary of the Chief Justice per year is $10,500, and that of the Associate Justices each $10,000.

THE subject of this sketch Bro. Ernest B. Saure, Reformed missionary in China, whose picture in native Chinese costume, we are enabled to present to our readers through the kindness of Bro. Stern of our city, was born and received his early education in Cincinnati, O. Bereft of his noble father, Rev. Conrad Saure, the founder of Salem's Reformed Church, when only about six years old, the task of training was left almost altogether to his pious mother, who with diligence, sincerity, and many prayers attended to this task. Having completed the course in the public schools in Cincinnati, the young brother Saure was engaged in commercial pursuits for several years. He then went to Bloomfield, N. J., where he completed the full college course and entered the seminary there. Before he had finished the theological course he felt that his Master was calling him to go to that benighted far-off country, China, and preach the blessed tidings of salvation in Jesus Christ.

Our church having no mission of its own in China, he placed himself at the disposal of the China Inland Mission. He was accepted, and sailed for China in January, 1895, and is now busily engaged in learning the extremely difficult Chinese language and doing what evangelistic work he is able to do in and about Gan King, China.

As far as we know he is the only missionary from our church in China. Others are willing to follow. Will not our church support them by prayers and offerings?

PALESTINE AS SEEN IN MODERN ENTERPRISE.—The progress of modern enterprise in Palestine is very considerable. The Jerusalem and Jaffa Railroad is almost ready for travelers. Three American locomotives are on hand. Outside of the Damascus gate of Jerusalem, an electric light is erected. A telegraph pole may be seen in some of the photographs of Jacobs' well. A steam mill sends out its puffs and jets near Nazareth. The tide, though slow, is moving onward.

Institutions.

The principal institutions of the Reformed Church in the United States are the following: Franklin and Marshall College and Theological Seminary, at Lancaster, Pa., Heidelberg University and Theological Seminary, Tiffin, Ohio, Ursinus College and Theological Department, Collegeville, Pa., Mission House, including College and Seminary, Franklin, Wis., Catawba College, Newton, N. C., Wichita University, Wichita, Kan., College of St. Joseph, St. Joseph, Mo., and College of Northern Illinois, Dakota, Ill. Also a Female Seminary at Allentown, Pa., and at Frederick, Md.

Rev. S. Ezra Neikirk.

THE subject of this sketch is the pastor of the First Reformed Church, of Hamilton, Ohio. The Reformed interests in this city are quite valuable; the church is under the care of the Board of Home Missions and the outlook is bright. The church property has just been improved by the addition of a well appointed Sunday-school room, kitchen and pastor's study and the auditorium newly frescoed and refitted with carpets and altar furniture.

Bro. Neikirk is of old Dutch Reformed stock, tracing his lineage to Guert Cornelissen Von Nieuwerkerke, who landed at New Amsterdam, in 1659. Graduating from Heidelberg University in 1891 and from the Theological Seminary in 1895, he accepted a call from the church he now serves. In addition to his pastoral work, he is a member of the city Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors, is the President both of the Hamilton City and the Butler County Christian Endeavor Unions, delivers occasional lectures and contributes to current literature.

Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl of all virtues.—Bishop Hall.

Reformed Church Government.

The government of the Reformed Church in the United States, in contradistinction from Papal, Episcopal, Congregational and Independent, is Presbyterial. The four several judicatories or courts, from the lowest to the highest, are: 1. The Consistory, consisting of the ministers, elders and deacons of a congregation, and has the supervision of the affairs of the congregation. 2. The Classis, which consists of the ministers within a certain geographical district, and a delegated elder from each pastoral charge therein, possessing authority to supervise its ministers and churches, to adjudicate all cases brought before it by appeal or complaint from the consistories, to license and ordain candidates for the ministry, etc. 3. The Synod, which is composed of a number of classes, not less than four, and has the same jurisdiction over them that they have over the consistories, meets annually in convention or as a delegated body. The synods are also authorized to make provision for the preparation of young men for the ministry, and to carry forward the work of missions, of beneficiary education, of theological seminaries, and of other general interests of the church. 4. The General Synod, which is composed of ministers and elders elected by all the classes, is the highest or supreme court, representing the whole church, and is the court of last resort in all cases respecting the government, doctrine and cultus of the church. It meets triennially.

Elders and Deacons.

Much depends upon the piety, intelligence and activity of a consistory, to give inspiration and prosperity to a congregation. Yet some congregations elect careless and inefficient men to the office of elder and deacon, with a view of thereby making them more consecrated and active. This is bad policy, as well as unwise and unscriptural. The tendency will be downward instead of upward. Let the best men in the congregation be sought out and consecrated to these high and holy offices. By this course an efficient consistory will be secured, and the prosperity of the congregation promoted.

Growth and Triumph of Christianity.

Over 1,800 years ago Jesus Christ, after having gathered about him a few publicans and fisherman, and commissioned them to preach his gospel, died in the hands of his enemies. The principles of truth he taught and through these chosen few proclaimed to the world, were to be understood and practised everywhere, and the principles of all governments were to be brought in harmony with his word. His disciples or apostles began their work in Jerusalem, and stern opposition met them here and elsewhere. But notwithstanding, the new religion diffused its blessings among the cities of Asia, the islands of Greece, the palaces of imperial Rome, over the deserts of Arabia and the continent of Europe, and gained conquest among the different nations of the earth.

And today, through active and united missionary effort, and the general circulation of the Bible translated into over 300 different languages, the gospel standard is planted on every shore, with the "dark continents" opened to the heralds of salvation, and the gospel is proclaimed to the ends of the earth. Thus Christianity, under divine direction, has verily become the living faith of civilization, and the universal religion of the world being the power of God unto salvation and glory.

The following tabular statement will give a proximate idea of the growth and triumph of Christianity through all the centuries. The number of believers or Christians at the close of each century was as follows:

CENTURY.	ABOUT.	CENTURY.	ABOUT.
First,	500,000	Eleventh,	70,000,000
Second,	2,000,000	Twelfth,	80,000,000
Third,	5,000,000	Thirteenth,	75,000,000
Fourth,	10,000,000	Fourteenth,	90,000,000
Fifth,	15,000,000	Fifteenth,	100,000,000
Sixth,	20,000,000	Sixteenth,	125,000,000
Seventh,	24,000,000	Sevent'nth,	155,000,000

Ninth,	40,000,000	Nineteenth	500,000,000

With respect to governments under Christian laws and influence: under Protestant governments there are now 520,103,190 souls, under

Roman Catholic 294,822,264, while the Eastern Church (Greek) has 127,975,823, making a total under Christian governments of 290,901,277 of the 1,500,000,000 population of the world.

Church Statistics.

According to the recent publication of the census reports respecting the churches in the United States, the following interesting facts are developed:

There are 143 distinct denominations in the United States, besides some independent churches and miscellaneous congregations; 111,036 ministers; 165,117 congregations; 142,521 church edifices with seating capacity for 43,564,803 persons; value of all church property $679,630,139; and 20,612,806 communicants. It also appears that from 1810 to 1894 the Christian people of America contributed $101,561,964 for foreign missions, and 1820 to 1894 $138,893,303 for home missions. The receipts of the religious publication houses of the evangelical churches of the United States from 1881 to 1894 were $55,475,277.

INFIDELITY A FAILURE.—What has infidelity done for the redemption or welfare of the world? Echo, asks what? Infidelity has really done nothing for the betterment of the world. It has built no temples, erected no institutions of learning, originated no science, organized no charities, established no orphans' homes, liberated no slaves, pioneered no new countries for civilization, never created a single virtue, nor kindled a star of hope, nor aided in promoting truth and righteousness in the world. Its theories have become exploded, its schemes of warfare against christianity prove failures, and its attempts of disproving the Bible have been abandoned. And why all this? Because God is not recognized and divine truth is ignored. Yes, infidelity is a failure.

Men are nothing compared with principles; for men are here today, and then are gone. But principles, ideas, measures live for all time.

It is not he that reads most, but he that meditates most on Divine truth, that will prove the choicest, the wisest, and the strongest Christian.

Brief Historic Sketch.

THE Grace Reformed Church was organized May 13, 1883. The lot of ninety-five feet, on East Washington Street, where the church edifice and parsonage are now located, was purchased June 13, 1883, at a cost of $4,000. Later thirty-five feet on the east side of the lot were sold for $1,500, and repurchased April 1, 1888, for $1,800. The lecture rooms of the church were erected in the summer of 1884, at a cost of nearly $4,000. The parsonage on the east part of the lot was built in the summer of 1889, at a cost of $2,125. The new church building was begun April 1, 1894. The corner stone was laid June 3, 1894. The church, as it is, completed and equipped, cost $15,000. The dedication of the new and handsome edifice took place Sabbath, April 21, 1895, under very auspicious circumstances. The building is a monument to the energy and untiring zeal of pastor and people. It has been very highly spoken of by the citizens of Fort Wayne as well as visitors from abroad who have seen it. The congregation can congratulate itself upon the progress it has made, and the work which has been done. The church has a very hopeful future before it, and with persistent and united effort, and confidence in the Lord, it will be able to do efficient work for the Master.

Alertness and Attention.

The attitude of the body in the church is indicative of the condition of the mind and heart for worship. To assume a lazy and indifferent attitude of body in the house of God during service—such as lounging, or putting the head on the back of the pew, or leaning sideways to engage in undertone whispers—exhibits a spirit of indifference and irreverence, detracting from the solemnity of the sanctuary, and bad manners in the sight of men. Don't be guilty of such conduct. It is wrong in itself, it robs you of the benefit of the service, and sets a very bad example to the worldly who sometimes find their way into the church.

GRACE REFORMED CHURCH, FORT WAYNE, IND.

Legacies and Bequests.

The custom of making a last "Will and Testament" is of high antiquity, and also has Scriptural precedents or examples. (Gen. 15; 18; Prov. 3: 9 and 10; Malachi 3: 10 and 11; Gal. 4: 2). In the earlier history of our church in this country, as well as in later years, such gifts or bequests have been made to the church. And in the progress of things, such gifts, legacies or bequests are at present needed more than ever to meet the wants of the church, and of her benevolent, literary and theological institutions. This is necessary to keep pace with the progress of the material world, and to insure enlarged success under the Divine blessing. The appeal goes out especially to those possessed of large means. What have you concluded to do? Have you decided to make an ample contribution while living? Or have you already made your Will? Have you absolutely determined in either way to remember the claims of God and the needs of the church and her institutions? "Now" is the accepted time.

Church Records.

The history of congregations is important, as the facts derived therefrom furnish valuable material for a history of the church in general. In view of this, pastors and congregations should constantly strive to keep their records with care and exactness. Baptisms, confirmations, marriages and deaths should be entered in the church book. Let this be done regularly, and with care as to facts, names and dates. So with respect to any fact or event of interest or importance. Neglect or indifference is bad, censurable.

New Year is Here.

We wish all our readers a happy and prosperous New Year!

The parting knell of the Old Year has been heard, and it is gone. Be thankful for the blessings and mercies it bestowed, and cherish its memory.

The New Year with a cheery smile and nimble tread has come! Give it a hearty welcome with a buoyant spirit and animated hope. We know not what its successive days may bring forth, but be assured that it will be another "year of the Lord," moving forward under His superintending care and accomplishing His wise and gracious purposes respecting the kingdom of Christ and the redemption of the world. The forces of good and evil are at work. The conflict continues. Take your stand on the side of God—of truth and righteousness. Strive to improve on the past. Do more and better work in the future. Be ready for duty when the Master calls. And thus it will prove a prosperous and happy year in the Lord, whatever the events and vicissitudes of life!

"WHAT THINK YE OF CHRIST?"—In Him centers all that is excellent, true, wise, perfect and glorious. Is Christ to you all this? Do you see in him, along with the highest moral qualities, true wisdom? Not merely salvation, forgiveness, life, but wisdom—wisdom the highest, the truest, the noblest ever trusted by you? Or have you some other Christ? As pleasure, world, wealth, literature, science, romance? Bear in mind that Christ is the wisdom of God and the only Savior!

Prof. Christian Hornung.

GRADUATED from Heidelberg College in the year 1868. Served his Alma Mater as tutor in mathematics, Latin and German for one year, 1868-9. Was elected to the chair of mathematics in Heidelberg College in June 1869. Has served the institution in this capacity continuously up to the present time, with the exception of two years, 1877-8 and 1894-5, which he spent on leave of absence for the benefit of his health. During the year 1877-8, as well as during several vacations before and after this year, he was engaged in the practice of surveying and drainage leveling for the counties of Henry, Defiance, Lucas and Putnam, Ohio, with the utmost benefit to his health and the practical side of his education. During the year 1894-5, besides attending to the settlement of his father's estate, as administrator, and spending a week or two at the opening and closing of each term of the University, he gained valuable practice in another branch of engineering by assisting a hydraulic engineer in making plans, drawings and specifications for water works and sewers and superintending the construction of the same. Improved in health he is at his post again.

Read the Good.

It is said that "as a man readeth so is he." There is much truth in this declaration. There are perhaps 20,000 periodicals, including daily, weekly and monthly, published in the United States. If all these publications, to say nothing of the numerous books printed, were issued in the interest of truth and righteousness, they would soon win our country to Christianity and moral power. But among these publications there are good, indifferent and positively bad ones—trash! Hence avoid the bad and seek the good. Yea, read the good, whether periodicals or books, which are morally pure and instructive, and tend to unfold Christian and ennobling virtues, and result in usefulness, happiness and a glorious destiny!

What Has Woman Done?

Much that is good in the home, the church and the state, and she has brought love into law, justice into institutions, ethics into politics, and refinement into the common life. Our civilization is rising into higher levels, religious and charitable aids increased, and reforms have become possible that hitherto were impracticable.

Truthfulness.

Nothing so vindicates the character of a person as truthfulness in all that is said or done, at all times and under all circumstances. This is the safest and best course. It is a sad fact that men, even in high places and sacred positions, do not always abide by the truth. Always tell the truth and fulfill your promises. A liar, a prevaricator, a dissembler, a hypocrite, is despised of God and disliked of honest men.

UNPARDONABLE SINS.—There are persons who are much concerned about the "unpardonable sins." Such concern or trouble is of little or no avail. Be assured, that if you are in this condition, the best thing for you to do, is to be concerned about sins which are pardonable, and then you will have no need to concern yourself about the one sin that is not.

Prof. P. Calvin Mensch.

PCALVIN MENSCH, Professor of Biology at Ursinus College, was born at Sellersville, Pa., June 13, 1864. He became a student at Ursinus College in 1883, and in 1887 was graduated with the A. B. degree. He then entered Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, for the purpose of taking a course in medicine, which course he completed in 1889, receiving from that institution the degree of M. D. Subsequently he spent a short time as a student at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School and in the fall of 1889 became a student at Grant University, Tenn. In 1891 he received the degree of Ph. D. from the latter institution. At the same time he was elected to the chair of Natural History at New Windsor College, Md. This position he held until the following year when he entered Johns Hopkins University for the purpose of continuing the study of biology. After completing a year's work at Johns Hopkins he was chosen Dean of Claremont College, N. C. This position he accepted but retained it only a few months for in January, 1894, he was called to Ursinus College to take charge of the department of Biology at that institution, which position he still holds. Under the charge of Dr. Mensch the Biological Laboratory has been thoroughly equipped and the different courses of this department have been made equal to the best courses offered by any of our colleges. During the summer of 1895 he was one of the students of investigation at the Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods' Holl, Mass. While there, besides devoting himself to his own individual work he made a large collection of marine animals and plants for use in the laboratory at Ursinus. Since the establishing of this department graduates of the college who have pursued this course are admitted to the second year of any of our medical colleges without examination, and in addition the Hahnemann Medical College has offered a free scholarship each year for the graduate who has attained the highest standing in this course.

True Honesty.

The prevailing mode of contributing funds for church or benevolent enterprises is either by cash or subscription. Either will answer the purpose to secure the end in view. But it sometimes happens that persons subscribe money to build or repair a church, or to support a pastor or to endow an institution, and afterwards forget, neglect or refuse to pay the amount subscribed. Is this honest or right? Calmly and seriously think about the matter in the fear of God, and then decide. Be honest and do your whole duty.

THE GREATEST OF ALL.—Who is truly great? He only is great at heart who floods the world with a great affection. He only is great of mind who stirs the world with great thoughts. He only is great of will who does something to shape the world to a great career. And he is greatest who does the most of all these things and does them best.

THE MIGHTIEST FORCE.—The mightiest force in the world is the Christian faith in the human soul. It is invincible as it puts Christ in the soul as a living principle, as a supernatural force, as an abiding presence, and as an almighty power. The true believer can therefore say: "I live, yet not I, but Christ that liveth in me;" and "I know, whom I have believed."

Take Your Children Along.

It is said that after a little boy had read Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress through, he asked his grandmother: "Grandma, which of the characters in this book do you like best?" She at once replied, "Christian, of course; he is the hero of the story."

Thereupon the little boy said, "I like Christiana best; because when Christian set out on his pilgrimage to heaven he went alone, but when Christiana started she took the children with her." That was a good idea clearly expressed. Children should be early brought into covenant relation with God, and taught religious truths at home and in the Sunday-school, become united with the church, and fully prepared through grace for heaven.

Church Going.

Go to church regularly.
 Go at once to your seat.
 Offer up a silent prayer.
 Join in all the services.
 Speak out the words clearly in singing.
 Be not lazy or listless in prayer.
 Take heed how you hear the sermon.
 Be guilty of no act that will disturb others.
 Receive the benediction devoutly.
 Be thankful for the services enjoyed.

The boaster and the worker in contrast. Is it not truism, that the greatest boasters are usually the smallest workers? Just so. Here is an example. The deepest rivers pay a larger tribute of water to the sea than the shallow brooks, and yet empty themselves with less noise.

The superintendents are: Rev. D. S. Fouse, D. D., Lisbon, Iowa, Rev. A. C. Whitmer, Lancaster, Pa., and Rev. D. B. Shuey, Emporia, Kansas.

The full Board meets annually in April and reviews the work of the entire year. The Executive Committee meets every quarter and attends to all such business as usually comes before the full Board, but the action of this committee is reviewed by the full Board at its annual meetings.

As the German Synods have not transferred their missions to this Board, it has under its control the English and Hungarian Missions, with the Harbor Mission at the port of New York.

Including the missions previously under the Board and those enrolled at the July meeting, the number reached one hundred during the year.

Of these six are Hungarians, but at this writing the missionaries for New York City and Mt. Carmel, Pa., have not arrived, but will soon be at the work assigned them. This work is making rapid progress.

The Board last year asked for $40,000, for the English, $3,000 for the Hungarian and $1,000 for the Harbor Mission. The synods voted these amounts. There has been a lack of funds, however, as the church did not pay the apportionments promptly. These moneys are needed and should be paid promptly.

The Extension Department, of which Elder Boush is Treasurer, is exceedingly important. The extension work includes the purchase of lots and the erection of chapels. As our church is doing much more work than formerly in large towns and cities, this arm of the work is especially needed in order to help forward the general work.

Special funds of $500 each have been given by classes and individuals. Eighteen of these funds have been received by the General Board. Other similar funds are now under way and will soon be completed.

Are there not many persons in the church who might be induced to give such funds? Pastors and elders should seek out such persons.

Probably no other department of the work of our church in this country is as important as the department of Home Missions. Upon the life, enterprise, and success of home missions depend the continued growth and prosperity of our church in all parts of the country. The missionary has been the conqueror and the civilizer of our land, and the march of civilization has been measured by the march of the missionary.

Though our church has been somewhat slow to open up new fields of labor, yet we are reaching out more every year, and planting the seed in many places, believing that God will give us the increase. It has not been many years since the territory now occupied by the Ohio Synod was altogether a field for the missionary operations of the church. But now we are pushing farther west and a few of our missions are found in the Pacific Coast states. One-sixth of our ministers are missionaries, and one-eighth of our congregations belong to mission fields.

The Home Mission work of our church is carried on by a General Board of Home Missions. For many years this work was carried on by Boards elected by different portions of the church. But it was soon seen that united work would be much more economical and efficient; and steps were taken looking toward the unification of our mission work. This was finally accomplished, and the General Synod at its last triennial meeting, held in Reading, Pa., elected the Board which has the oversight and care of the missions. This has been found to have been an advantageous move, and much good has resulted therefrom.

This Board carries on its work by means of an Executive Committee, which holds quarterly meetings to consider matters of importance and to transact the regular business. In addition to this committee there are at present three superintendents: Rev. D. S. Fouse, D. D., being General Superintendent; Rev. D. B. Shuey, D. D., is located in the West, and Rev. A. C. Whitmer in the East. There is also a missionary appointed by the concurrence of the General Board of Home Missions and the General Synod's Sunday-school Board. He is called the Sunday-school missionary, his work being mainly to go into unoccupied fields and by gathering together a Sunday-school to form the nucleus of a congregation. Rev. J. C. Horning was appointed to this position in the spring of 1895. It is hoped that more such workers will be put into the field at an early day.

The mission work is by no means confined to the English portion of our church. There are many German missions enrolled. The reports show that out of the one hundred and thirty mission congregations, there are thirty-one German missions.

One of the most prosperous and fruitful parts of the work is that being done among the Hungarians, of whom there are a great many in this country. The Reformed Church was the first Protestant denomination to begin that work; and the results testify to its wisdom. Extensive and active work is being done at Cleveland, Ohio, Pittsburgh and Mt. Carmel, Pa., Trenton, N. J., New York City, Bridgeport and Hartford, Conn.; and one of the missionaries is working in Assinaboia. For this work missionaries are obtained from Hungary.

The church spent last year nearly $44,000 in the Home Mission work. Much more could have been used, if the church had furnished it, for there are many large cities, as well as smaller ones, where we should plant missions without delay.

The result of our Home Mission work in the past shows that it amply justifies its cost. God's blessing has been given and may be expected still. More faith in His promises, more prayer for His favor, more men for His work, and more money to send them are the pressing needs. The doors are wide open. Christ's command, our country's need, the results of the past, and all our hopes as a church for future growth, demand the vigorous prosecution of Home Missions.

Foreign Missions.

The Board of Foreign Missions consists of the following members: Rev. Jas. I. Good, D. D., President; Rev. J. H. Prugh, D. D., Vice President; Rev. S. N. Callender, D. D., Secretary; Elder Jos. L. Lemberger, Treasurer. Revs. A. R. Bartholomew, J. S. Kiefer, D. D., J. Dahmann, D. D., Peter Greiding, D. D., C. R. Dieffenbacher, D. D., Elders J. Y. Dietz, B. Kuhns and J. Z. Gerhard, M. D.

The Executive Committee consists of the four officers, together with Rev. A. R. Bartholomew and Elder J. Z. Gerhard, M. D.

The missionaries in the field are Revs. J. P. Moore, D. D., W. E. Hoy, D. B. Schneder, H. K. Miller, Sunday-school Missionary, S. S. Snyder, C. E. Missionary, and Misses Mary C. Hollowell and Lena Zurfluh. Mr. Christopher Noss, a late graduate of the Institutions at Lancaster, Pa., is under appointment, and is expected to enter the field in the fall of 1895.

The mission consists of one principal station, Sendai, Japan, twelve organized churches, of which five are self-supporting, and forty-one preaching stations. These last are mainly supplied by native evangelists. There are twenty-seven Sunday-schools with over 1,000 scholars. The contributions for all purposes for the year 1893-'94 were $2,528.21.

There are connected with the missions in Sendai, two Christian schools. One for girls, which grades with our female seminaries in this country. It has from fifty-five to sixty scholars, most of whom are Christians either when they enter, or become such before completing their course. This school is conducted by the Misses Hollowell and Zurfluh, aided by several native Christian teachers. Five young ladies graduated at the last commencement. The male school comprises Theological, Collegiate and Preparatory Departments, which grade up to our home institutions. For the year ending May 31, 1895, there were 141 students. Of these twenty-five were in the theological seminary, and 116 in the college and preparatory. Of these last sixty-one were Christians, while most of the rest were pronounced seekers. Six graduated from the theological, and five from the collegiate departments at the last commencement. The former go forth as evangelists, and most of the latter it is expected will enter the seminary.

The prime necessity of raising up a native ministry is becoming more and more apparent, and for this crucial interest, our facilities are in urgent need of enlargement. Not so much a greater teaching force, as additional buildings. We have but one building of medium size for seminary, college and preparatory.

All our missionaries take part in teaching in the institutions. Of the evangelistic work, Rev. Dr. Moore is the appointed principal, but all the others share in the work, as their school duties afford them time and opportunity.

The Board would most respectfully and urgently commend the restricted interests of our work to the enlarged consideration of the church.

The Apostles' Creed.

I believe in God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth: And in Jesus Christ, his only begotten Son, our Lord; Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary; Suffered under Pontius Pilate; was crucified, dead and buried; He descended into hell. The third day he rose from the dead; He ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Ghost; the Holy Catholic Church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

The Ten Commandments.

- I. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
- II. Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.
- III. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
- IV. Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt do no manner of work, thou nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man servant nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.
- V. Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
- VI. Thou shalt not kill.
- VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
- VIII. Thou shalt not steal.
- IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
- X. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man servant, nor his maid servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

The Lord's Prayer.

Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

Child's Evening Prayer.

Now I lay me down to sleep;
I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take:
And this I ask for Jesus' sake.—Amen.

Child's Prayer.

Lord look upon a little child,
By nature sinful, weak, and wild:
Oh, lay Thy gracious hands on me,
And make me all I ought to be.—Amen.

Childs' Morning Prayer.

Lord, I awake and see the light,
For thou hast kept me through the night;
To thee I lift my hands, and pray,
Keep me from sin throughout this day;
And if I die before 'tis done,
Save me through Jesus Christ Thy Son. Amen.

Gentle Jesus.

Gentle Jesus, meek and mild,
Look upon a little child;
Pity my simplicity,
Suffer me to come to Thee.
Fain I would to Thee be brought Gracious God, forbid it not;
In the kingdom of Thy grace
Give a little child a place.
Oh, supply my every want,
Feed the young and tender plant;
Day and night my keeper be,
Every moment watch round me.—Amen.

Evening Prayer.

Four corners round my bed,
Four Angels guard my head,
If any evil come to me,
Jesus Christ, deliver me.—Amen.

It is suggested that it is not really the great length, but the small depth and breadth, which sometimes makes a sermon of 60 minutes seem exceedingly long.

The Church Paper.

The Reformed Church from its early history in this country laid great stress upon family training, family education, home reading and religious improvements. The Bible, the catechism and the church paper have always been regarded the necessary handmaids to the growth of piety, religion and a higher education. When we carefully study the benefits flowing forth from these to the family we cannot help but implore the friends of the Reformed Church to rally with new and more determined strength to the hearty support of the church paper. This agency in the Christian home is of more value than investing your money in the "forbidden things of the world" and will yield a ten-fold greater blessing to the home. The best and most faithful members of the church always read the church paper. These are the ones upon whom the pastor can best rely. These are the tried and true who at all hazards will defend the pastor and the church, and these are the liberal supporters of the benevolent operations of the church.

Contented With Half.

How easy it is to make a bad use of a good thing! When the poor widow at the treasury of the temple cast in her two mites, our Lord spoke these memorable words of comforting approval: "She hath cast in more than they all; for all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God, but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had." How helpful and encouraging these words are to all who have only penury from which to give for the Lord's cause! And yet too often they are used, by those who have abundance, to cover up the poverty of their gifts.

"I must contribute my mite," said a wealthy man to an appeal for a contribution to help on the work of the Lord.

"Do you mean the mite which the widow in the temple gave?" asked the solicitor. "If so, I will be content with half of it. How much are you worth?"

"At least one hundred thousand dollars."

"The widow's mite, you know, was all that she had; give me your check for fifty thousand dollars, which, by the widow's standard, is only one-half of your mite, and I will not ask for more."

We should never presume, directly or indirectly, to appropriate to ourselves the commendation of our Lord, unless the circumstances of our conduct fully justify it.—Sabbath Recorder.

Population of the World.

According to the most recent calculations and statistics, the population of the world is given at about 1,500 millions of people.

Of these there are in

Asia	858,000,000
Europe	381,200,000
America	133,670,000
Africa	127,000,000
Australia	4,730,000

Total..... 1,504,600,000

These millions of inhabitants are divided in regard to the principle religious confessions as follows:

Evangelical Christians.....	200,000,000
Roman Catholics.....	195,000,000
Greek Christians	105,000,000

Total..... 500,000,000

Jews	8,000,000
Mohammedans	180,000,000
Heathen	812,000,000

Not Christians 1,000,000,000

According to the foregoing statistics about one-third of the inhabitants of the earth are adherents of the Christian faith; and Protestantism numerically exceeds Roman Catholicism, and the leading nations, as England, the Netherlands, Germany and the United States of North America, are bearers of Evangelical Christianity.

SOLDIERS AND TAX-PAYERS.—It is said that during the most peaceful years the world has 3,700,000 soldiers, who are withdrawn from productive occupations to pose as soldiers. The pay, equipments, food and clothing of these men cost the world's tax-payers nearly $8,000,000 a day.

Giving.

What will you give up, children
 For Jesus Christ's dear sake?
 What offering from your young lives
 Will each one gladly make?
 He gave up heaven, and came to you!
 Then what, for Him, can you not do?

What will you give up, children?
 Something you love quite well?
 Some pleasure, or some precious thing,
 Which none but you can tell?
 He gave His life that you might live!
 Then what, for Him, can you not give?

What will you give up, children?
 Yourself, and all your own?
 Just to belong to Jesus Christ,
 His children, His alone?
 He gave Himself, your Savior true,
 Now give yourselves—oh, will not you?
Jennie Harrison, in Christian Intelligencer.

Pithy Paragraphs.

Never give a temptation a chance to get its second wind.

The devil can be a very moderate devil, when it pays him.

The more of Satan you box into a child's ears the more you will have to pray out.

If we at any time find our friends unkind to us, let us remember that Christ's were so to Him.

A church ought to be like a lumber-yard with all the cross-grained, crooked and knotty sticks culled out.

The man who sells goods with a short yardstick would steal the foundation stones of heaven, if he could get at them.

The man who is walking squarely in the footprints of Christ never looks round when the devil throws mud at his back.

It is no use for the father who keeps a rawhide hanging behind the bedroom door to tell his boy that God is his Father and loves him.

The father who does not put good reading matter into the hands of his children has never done any real praying for their salvation.

A preacher that asks the Lord to touch his lips with a coal of fire from the altar, can't answer the prayer by putting a lighted cigar there.

There is more misery in hell over one church member that backslideth than over ninety and nine hardened sinners that had nothing to backslide from.

Faith tells us what the senses do not tell us, but not the contrary of what they perceive to be true. It is above the senses, but not in opposition to them.

"If ye, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good gifts to them that ask him.

Those who will get to heaven must fight their way thither. There must be a conflict with corruption and temptation and the opposition of the powers of darkness.

The word "come" is found in the Bible six hundred and seventy-eight times, and yet there are people who will tell you that God has never called them to repentance.

Surely the day when, perhaps, we have been fluent in worldly conversation, and yet have neglected our opportunities of speaking a word for our Master, must be a lost day.

Tears are but finite; 'tis but a while that we shall weep; after a few showers that fall from our eyes we shall have a perpetual sunshine. In heaven the battle of tears is stopped.

Sometimes a rich man's twenty-five dollar subscription to the preacher's salary is as good as a command not to preach against speculation, or oppressing employes, or running a brewery.

Some of the people who think the door of heaven ought to open wide enough to let in everybody are now among the most anxious that folks with the cholera shall be kept out of the country.

Some churches grind their preachers down to a starvation salary, which they pay in chips and whetstones, yet make a good deal of noise in singing, "More love to thee, O Christ, more love to thee."

If some one abuses you for belonging to church, you needn't set that down as persecution for Christ's sake. Maybe you deserve it. But when you are abused for doing a good deed, that is suffering for his name.

All the work of the Samaritan was the result of his first having compassion on the needy man. When the church learns to love the masses as Christ does, it will not have any trouble in finding a way to reach them.

It is a remark worth reflecting upon, that lost patience is never found again. One may be patient next time, but that is another thing. The word spoken comes not back; the impression once made cannot be wholly wiped out. What then? It pays to take pains as to patience and temper. "The tongue can no man tame." But God and man united can do it; and the joys for the conquest more than repay the labor.

A man is safe who will never let go his hold on the fact that the Bible, as respects its fundamental doctrines, is of divine origin; that regeneration and daily communion with God are essential to salvation; and that faith without works is not faith, but fancy. If on this foundation, never to be questioned nor undermined, he can allow his mind free action in every realm to the exploration of which human faculties are adequate.

Pleasantries.

Lady: "A gentleman called you say? Did he leave any name?" Parlor Maid: "Yes'm: I asked him his name, and he said it was 'Immaterial.'"

"What is a lake?" asked the teacher. A bright little Irish boy raised his hand. "Well, Mikey, What is it?" "Sure, it is a hole in the kittle, mum."

Snooks (reading about the French): "What a remarkable man Henri Rochefort is!" Snikes: "Yes; and think of the delicious cheese he makes!"

Hostess: "What has become of Sandy Smith, who stood so high in your class?" Alumnus: "Oh, he's taken orders." "He's in the ministry, then?" "No: in a restaurant."

A candid Opinion.—"Well, my dear child, how do you like Herr von Sauer Kroutman?" "Oh, mamma, he is very nice, and so clever! I did not understand a word he said."

A Gentle Egotist.—The Brilliant Jones (who likes an appreciative audience) to his hostess: "Oh, there! It's no use! I give it up! Conversation's impossible when people will talk."

Warden: "We assign men here to work with which they are familiar. If you have any special line, you'd better say so, and we'll start you at once." Convict: "Thanks. I can't begin too soon: I am an aeronaut."

"I wonder," thought Frank, as he awakened in the country early in the morning, "whether that rooster tells the sun when to get up or the sun tells the rooster. I wish they'd both wait until I was ready."—Harper's Young People.

Stories of absent-mindedness are invariably amusing, but one that is being told of Professor Burdon Sanderson, the President of the British Association, requires a rather large grain of salt. On one occasion, it is said, while at Oxford, he asked a few friends to a bachelor dinner, and to their intense surprise, on their arrival, proceeded to offer them their overcoats, shake hands with them, and express a hope that they had enjoyed themselves. Then seeing their astonishment he remembered that they were arriving and not departing guests, and a hearty laugh put matters to rights.

NO. 13.

The Christian World.

REV. E. P. HAMMOND, D.D., Editor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

God gives good gifts to men to be used; and if they are not used, they are withdrawn.

The pastors are requested to send in their reports of Easter gatherings as soon as possible after Easter. We trust all may have a precious Easter communion and a large addition to the church of such as shall be saved.

It looks very much as if we were going to have a pope in this country before many years. The fact that Sacelli was sent to the United States as Apostolic Delegate seems to point in that direction. Perhaps the shrewd Italian has an eye on that honorable position.

In many places our pastors are having marked success in their work. Some of these are places where old prejudices existed and where it is difficult to do anything till these are overcome. The pastor who can outlive old trouble and can get grace into the hearts is to be congratulated.

The Sunday-school literature for the second quarter has been sent out. We are glad the editors favored us so we could get out the work without being rushed at the very last moment. We wish all our Sunday-schools a pleasant and profitable Easter, and may those that closed in the fall open again with the springing of the flowers.

There is some probability that Dr. Pierson, who is now supplying the pulpit of Spurgeon's church, will be immersed. It is said that remarks made by Dr. Pierson have given strength to the impression that he will before long take that step. It might be well for the good doctor to make certain first whether he will be elected permanent pastor.

A very important law of the spiritual life, which is a never-failing sign of spiritual growth, is what we might term the transfiguration of day. What we mean is this: As we come more and more into harmony with God, duty ceases to be done because we must do it, and becomes a delight. We say with the Psalmist, "I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea thy law is within my heart."

When the pope bade farewell to the pilgrims from England he expressed the hope that that country would once more be Roman Catholic, and declared that there are already many signs of the transition.

In comparing his faith with Christianity, a Buddhist priest in Japan said, "The personality of Christ is the magnetic power of Christianity," and in this way he emphasized the peculiar strength of that religion which will one day be the religion of the world.

Already preparations are being made to keep the cholera from our shores, or from spreading if it is brought to our ports. It is too soon to begin in time. That there will be an epidemic all over Europe seems inevitable, and it will require the greatest vigilance to keep it abroad. It would be well for our people to heed sanitary regulations, keeping body and surroundings clean.

How truly wonderful is the religion which Christ came to reveal. It is such that the business man can take it with him during business hours, and feel its power; the workman can take it into the workshop, and find it restraining passion and controlling temper; the mother will find in it a soothing balm amid all the worry and trials of domestic duties, and the young will find it lightening every duty, sweetening every enjoyment, sanctifying every pleasure, and gilding life with glory and with beauty.

That was a noble sentiment uttered by Esther, when she made up her mind to go before the king in the hope of saving her nation and people from destruction: "If I perish, I perish." She was willing to risk her life for the safety of her people. Who among us is ready to make such a sacrifice for the safety of our nation. We are threatened on every hand by avowed enemies of the cross. We have those who would utterly destroy our homes and our all if they could carry out their schemes. Who will come forward to intercede before the King eternal for those we love?

One is surprised sometimes in journeying through the orient at the length of the tomb. In northern Syria is the tomb of Noah which is 120 feet in length. The builders believed that the antediluvians were extremely great in stature. The tomb of our first mother, Eve, is, according to the Arabs, located at Jiddah, the support of Mecca, and every seven years thousands of devote Ishmaelites make a pilgrimage thither. The temple which marks the supposed burial place has a roof of solid rock, and from this stone roof grows a palm. The Arabian tradition, agreeing with the conclusions of a member of the French Academy of Sciences, claims that Eve and Adam were over 200 feet high, and the tomb is built on that supposition. Once each year, according to the tradition, on the third of June, the anniversary of the death of Abel, the doors of the temple resist all efforts of the keepers to close them, and terrible cries of anguish issue from the tomb.

It is a high privilege which the Christian enjoys in being kept by his kind heavenly Father, kept in the hour of temptation and from falling, and in his strength they keep themselves unspotted from the world. One subject engrosses their attention. It is "Jesus only." In their retirement he fills their thoughts. Among their friends he is the theme of conversation. He has so filled them with his fulness that the world and wickedness are wholly shut out. They think of Christ. They talk of Christ and his salvation. Their hearts overflow with love for their fellowmen, and an intense longing for their salvation. Under the full tide of his blessed experience they marvel that all men are not like themselves. They easily keep themselves unspotted from the world. Formerly it was a constant struggle, with repeated failures; now sin has no power over them. They pass through the corruption of social life as the sunbeams pass through the mountain mist, unharmed and without losing any of their warmth, and purity and brightness. They carry the brightness of heaven in their faces, and, if circumstances constrain them to weep with those who weep, there will be gleams of sunshine even in their tears.

Like sunbeams, broken in the still, though turned aside, the sunbeams still.

Evangelists, like other mortals, have their failings, and their faults are pardoned before the public in a most open and sometimes ungentle manner. They are beset with perils because of the great esteem in which which they are held by a certain class. An English paper in discussing the dangers of the evangelist says: "It is hard to mention it without seeming offensive, but one of the perils most imminent to the special work of the evangelist is vanity. Taking ministers as a class, levity and sloth are probably the faults that most easily beset them; but the evangelist, especially if he is of any distinction, is tempted almost beyond man's strength. His coming to a town is elaborately arranged, there is a joint invitation from all the most earnest workers in the locality; there are special prayer meetings for the success of his mission; the ministers sit at his feet, and sometimes get a word from the height, not in a dream, but in sober reality the sun and the moon and the eleven stars make obeisance to him. No wonder he sometimes loses his sense of proportion, and forgets that a religious coterie is not the Church, still less the kingdom of God. No wonder he, sometimes talks about himself, and in spite of prayers and strivings, becomes a too self-conscious man."

The Rev. E. P. Hammond, who has been in the field as evangelist for thirty years is still at it, though he has lost some of the agility of former years. He has been most successful among the children, and has been the humble instrument in God's hands to bring multitudes of the little ones into the kingdom. The work has extended to both sides of the sea. He is now engaged in his special work in Chicago. Of his work in England he says: "My greatest work abroad was in London, where in 1866 I conducted meetings for seven months. During that time the conversions averaged about 500 a week. There was no opposition to my children's meetings until I went to Mr. Spurgeon's Tabernacle, and then there came an outbreak. For at that time Mr. Spurgeon was the target for all the slurs and slings and arrows of the gossip-living world, and was deeply distrusted and disliked by many church people. When the great preacher asked me to come to the Tabernacle, I said, 'No, I cannot fill your church. You are the only man who can.' He replied, 'Leave that to me, but come.' The time was appointed, and for a week previous men could be seen on all the principal streets of London with great placards on their backs announcing the meeting. Daily nations also appeared in the papers. When the afternoon came, 8,000 children crowded into the Tabernacle, and 1,000 more packed the street outside. I never saw such a meeting. The attending of one meeting was forgotten by those who were there. It was understood at the time that 1,000 children professed conversion. On a visit years afterward I found many of them workers in the church. The 'Special Missions' work grew out of these London meetings."

Families in the Reformed Church who are not now taking the Christian World should not fail to send in their names for sample copy. The popularity of the Christian World is constantly increasing, and all we ask is the support of our Reformed members to make it the best paper for the money published.

The Christian World is widely known as a good advertising medium and we would advise those wishing to advertise their goods to give it a trial. All communications addressed to the Advertising Department will receive prompt attention. Send for new rate card just issued.

This is a page of the CHRISTIAN WORLD much reduced in size, every word of which can be read with the unaided eye by most persons.
